AH, THERE, FRIEND JACK!

How Kentucky's Attorney General Was Entertained by the Banko Boys.

It's worth going a long way to get one on Jack Hendrick; and THE LEDGER has laughed its sides over Senator Goebel's story of how Jack was "buncoed" in Cincinnati on his way home from New York. It runs something like this:

Steerer—I believe I have the honor of addressing Attorney General Hendrick of Kentucky?
Gen. H.—Yes, but I believe I have not the honor of your acquaintance.
Steerer—I met you at—two years ago.
Gen. H.—Ah, glad to see you again.
Steerer—Was just starting to get a lemonade; won't you join me?
Gen. H.—Why, certainly.
Steerer—Bartender, show General Hendrick of Kentucky that trick.
Bartender—Haven't time just now; call again later.
Steerer—But I insist. It won't take much time.
Gen. H.—Let me entreat you to proceed.
Bartender—Anything to accommodate. Just step into the back room. Now take the top card from that deck. What is it?
Gen. H.—The ace of spades.
Bartender—Put it back and shuffle the cards. Now take what day of the week you were born on. Thursday?
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday. I'll bet you a dollar the fifth card from the top is the ace of spades.
Gen. H.—Done.
Bartender—(shuffling off four cards)—There's your ace. Place it back in the pack and shuffle. Now take the third card from the top. It's the ace of spades? Put it in the deck and shuffle. Born on the 23d of the month? Bet you a wheel the twenty-second card from the top is the ace of spades.
Gen. H.—Good.
Bartender—(dealing off the twenty-one cards and turning up the twenty-second)—Here's your ace.
Gen. H.—Say, mister, let me see those cards?
Bartender—I must go. I have already wasted too much time.
Gen. H.—(examining the deck after the bartender and steerer have departed)—Well, be dog my cats if they ain't all the ace of spades, every fifty-two of 'em!

The Silver bill has been favorably reported by the Finance Committee and placed on the House calendar. The Committee on Rules agreed upon a resolution, which will be reported next Wednesday, making the Silver bill a special order for Wednesday and Thursday.

JAMES SHAW, aged 30 years, a resident of Adams county, O., was shot and killed near his home about three miles from Vanceburg. He was driving an ox team and was fired on from ambush by unknown persons. He married a Miss Emma Cooper, daughter of Samuel Cooper, Jr., but had been separated about two years. But feeling existed between Shaw and the Coopers on account of the separation, and suspicions point very strongly to his wife's father and a man by the name of Sylvester Howe as the murderers.

Notice to Farmers!

At a meeting of the grain merchants and millers of Maysville, held on June 24th, 1892, the subject of cleaning wheat by farmers was introduced and fully discussed, and the following preamble and resolution was adopted: That whereas, in former years, owing to the superior quality and cleanliness of Mason county wheat, it enjoyed a reputation second to no other section of the country and was much sought after, but in recent years, owing to the imperfect cleaning of wheat by threshers, it has suffered very materially in grading in the general markets in comparison with wheat from other states, resulting in no inconsiderable loss to the handlers, and many of the former large wheat customers who bought wheat here have in consequence been diverted to other markets; therefore, be it resolved, That the grain dealers and millers of this city feel that it is incumbent upon them to make it known to the farmers that they must insist upon them having their wheat well cleaned and screened by threshers, otherwise prices will be made accordingly. They desire to state, for the benefit of the farmers, that wheat to grade No. 2 must weigh at least 56 pounds to the bushel, and be dry and reasonably clean, and may have an occasional small butt, but free from stain. Wheat not up to the above grades will be classed as rejected.
